

SWIMMING POOL, OXFORD UNIVERSITY

It had been a vision for Oxford University to build a swimming pool complex at their Iffley Road Sports Ground for many years.

The competition pool was constructed adjacent to the running track which was the venue for the record breaking 4 minute mile performance by Sir Roger Bannister.

The project was procured under a two stage design and build procedure with Lavingtons providing Quantity Surveying and Employers Agent/Project Management Services.

Completed on programme and within budget the project was nominated for the Quality In Construction Awards in 2004.
